I received this update on my friend Helen from her sister, regarding her physical condition following her car accident in Kalene, Zambia. Praise God that she is doing well, and will be coming home soon. Thank you to all who prayed for her, your prayers have been answered.

Hi Chris

I spoke to mum on Thursday evening. Everything is going very well with Helen. She is hoping to be home by next weekend (i.e. this one coming). The hip operation went very well and they just want to come home now, although everyone in Johannesburg has been lovely and they've been really well looked after. I expect it was rather jolly on Saturday after S.Africa won the rugby....! I will ring them again later this week but unless anything else goes wrong they should be returning as soon as they can get on a flight.

Hope this helps

Lorraine
