A few friends have notified me that Hal Lindsay has stated on his recent broadcast (20th July, 2007) that Israel has a new Red Heifer. Unfortunately I don't have broadband so I haven't seen the video, but you can watch it online at Hal Lindsey's website . The ashes of a pure Red Heifer are required to cleanse the Temple area before the sacrifices can resume.

Sorry I won't be doing any updates today, I seem to have a bad case of guitar or something. When I turn my head certain ways the whole world spins round, and it has made me feel sick. Thanks.
