California threatens to arrest anyone who attends indoor church service