"And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself; that where I am, there you may be also." - John 14:3 "...Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man the things which God has prepared for those who love Him.- 1 Corinthians 2:9 How do we describe the beauty of God's creation to a blind person? We can be as detailed and fine in our description but it would not do any justice to the real beauty compared to the blind person's imagination. We can only imagine what the beauty of heaven looks like but it is far beyond our imagination. Our Lord promised that He would return and take believers to the place He has prepared. He called it mansions in the Father's house. We will just need to wait to experience it but it will not be something we can exhaust or get bored but will awe us all through eternity. Eye has not see, nor ear heard... Praise the Lord!
