"Now when these things begin to happen, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draws near." - Luke 21:28 "For you yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so comes as a thief in the night." - 1 Thessalonians 5:2 Are we witnessing the days that our Lord foretold would happen before His return? It very well could be, but we do not know! Our world is in turmoil whether it is the weather going haywire or man made destructions and war. Surely these things indicate that the coming of our Lord is at hand. Our redemption is drawing near. So, as our Lord commanded, let's look up and lift up our heads, and be ready. If you have not receive the Lord Jesus Christ into your heart, may this be the day you make that decision. Praise the Lord!
