

One whom you worship without knowing, Him I proclaim

Written by Jacob Chacko Kallara

Tuesday, 04 March 2025 12:05

"The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament shows His handiwork. Day unto day utters speech, and night unto night reveals knowledge." - Psalm 19:1-2 "...Therefore, the One whom you worship without knowing, Him I proclaim to you. God, who made the world and everything in it, since He is Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands." - Acts 17:23,24 When we look around and beyond the sky, we see the handiwork of God in all His creation. Everything is beautifully and wonderfully made to the minutest detail. From the smallest creature to the grandest stars, we see God's glory and magnificence. The complexity and beauty that human minds cannot comprehend fully. Sadly, in spite of the general revelation of God, people are atheist or a vast majority worshipers of false gods. Men have turned God into their own image in the form of animals and creatures which God created. Apostle Paul when preaching to the philosophers in Athens, made it very clear that God created all things, and He does not dwell in temple made with hands. Let us take a moment to worship the true and living God and our Savior Jesus Christ. Let us praise the magnificent and awesome God, creator of all things. Praise the Lord!